

My Evil Master Plan to Get My Articles and Yours Of Course on Main Page of Digg, Propeller and Sphin

I believe that if you read Maki's article at DoshDosh.com about Social Media Marketing – you'll know what means. I'm feeling pretty evil today. As you know, Digg and other sites like Propeller and Sphinn can contribute loads of traffic to your site – provided if you appear on the main page with lots of votes.

Here's my master plan:

1. I'm looking for 1,000,000 people to join me in this scheme. Criteria to join:

i. You love traffic

ii. You want huge amount of traffic to your site monthly

iii. You don't mind clicking on a simple 'vote' button to get loads of traffic (and to the people whom you are helping)

2. Post a reply on this article together with the link to your Digg/Sphinn/Propeller/etc and whoever visits this article, please vote for the article by clicking on the link

3. If this works out, in the future, I'll open up a private forum where everyone can sign up and vote each other's article - without Digg, etc even knowing what's happening!
